

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1917.

Copyright, 1917, by the Sun Printing and Publishing Association.

NAVY MEN HOLDING THE NATION'S FIRST LINE

Rear Admiral W. F. Fullam, commanding reserve
forces in the Pacific

Copyright
Harris & Ewing.

ADMIRAL HENRY
T. MAYO, COMMAND-ER IN CHIEF OF THE ATLANTIC FLEET.
HIS FLAGSHIP IS THE PENNSYLVANIA

Photo Press Illustrating.

Admiral William B. Caperton, Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet.

Photo
Harris & Ewing.

Capt Harry S.
Knapp, in command of the cruiser force in the Atlantic.

Photo Pach.

Rear Admiral Albert W. Grant, commanding the submarine force of the Atlantic fleet.

Photo Paul Thompson.

Vice-Admiral De Witt Coffman, commander of the Atlantic fleet's battleships, with the Wyoming as his flagship

Photo Press Illustrating.

Of special interest to New Yorkers, Capt. Charles F.
Hughes (at right), commanding the battleship New York.
At left is Rear Admiral Augustus F. Fichteler, who commands Division VI., with the New York as his flagship.

Photo Paul Thompson.

Rear Admiral Herbert O. Dunn, commanding Squadron III.
of Atlantic fleet. The Connecticut bears his flag.

Photo Pach.